APPROPRIATION BILL

McGovern Signs Bill Providing Deficiency in Penal and Charitable Institutions Budget.—Other Matters.

Madison, June 10.—Governor McGovern today signed the bill to appropriate $17,000 to cover deficiency in funds of the state penal and charitable institutions. This will apply to the year of 1911-12.

The measure passed by the assembly late yesterday, appropriating $1,000,000 for the institution and the support of the Wisconsin state penal and charitable institutions was ordered engrossed in the Senate.

Pandering Bill. The bill providing a penalty of 20 years for pandering, was ordered to the third reading in the Senate. The Donald good roads bill, which came before the Senate today for concurrence in minor assembly amendments was laid over until next Tuesday. It has passed both houses in its original form.

Heat Intense. State lawmakers in both houses of the legislature today sweated, coughed, and collapsed in some instances, when the mercury reached a stage of 86 at two o'clock p. m.

No Investigation. There will be no legislative investigation of the liquor traffic in Wisconsin this session. The assembly today by a close vote called for the table and killed the excise committee resolution to that effect.

Reduce Express Rates. The assembly passed the Hurlburt bill providing for reduction of 25 per cent on express rates in the state. The matter of a reduction is now being investigated by the state railroad commission.

Must Close Stores. The Senate today concurred in the assembly amendment requiring all retail establishments in Milwaukee and every city in the state to be kept closed on Sunday. The bill has passed both houses and will now go to the governor for signature.

MAY SOLVE MYSTERY OF WARRINER CASE IN TRIAL OF COOKE

Disclosures in Embezzlement Case Expected in Trial of Edgar Street Cooke of Chicago in Cincinnati, Monday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Cincinnati, O., June 10.—After many months of patient waiting the public is likely soon to learn the hidden facts in the celebrated Warriener case, which cost the Big Four railroad nearly $1,000,000 and sent one man to the penitentiary and one woman to the madhouse.

The man who was sent to prison is Charles L. Warriener, convicted of embezzling the huge sums while acting as local treasurer of the Big Four railroad. The woman in the case is Mrs. Jeannette S. Ford, who was accused to have blackmailed Warriener out of hundreds of thousands of dollars and who is now confined in a sanitarium, her mind almost gone. It is said, as a result of the strain of her trial.

The third principal in the celebrated case is Edgar Street Cooke of Chicago, who is to be placed on trial here Monday on a charge of embezzlement from the Big Four. His trial, it is believed, will bring to light all of the hidden details in the sordid history of love, lust, intrigue and blackmail.

From the very first it has been hinted that the least fact of all in the huge scandal was Warriener's $643,000 embezzlement. In Warriener's trial and in the trial of Mrs. Ford the name of Edgar Street Cooke was frequently mentioned. Warriener declared that Cooke was the instigator and real principal in the thefts of the railroad company's funds. Yet months passed before any effort was made to bring about the arrest and trial of the Chicagoan, who affected to feel no fear that he would ever be prosecuted on the charges made against him.

Charles L. Warriener confessed that his thefts from the railroad began years ago when he was employed in the Cleveland office. What prompted him to begin his stealings has never been learned. While he lived well, his mode of living did not lead one to believe that he was spending more than his salary. He was a constant attendant at church and so far as has been learned had no expensive habits.

The career of Mrs. Jeannette S. Ford, the second principal in the case, is less mysterious but more romantic. She had just finished her course in a fashionable boarding school when her father died, leaving her an orphan, with some $50,000. She was then in her teens. In Cincinnati she met a young man named Ford and married him. Ford later secured a divorce.

Soon after this the woman met Edgar Street Cooke, young, good-looking and prosperous. Cooke was a subordinate of Warriener in the Big Four office. There were rumors that Cooke was short in his accounts. Later Warriener made a report that Cooke was not short and discharged him. Cooke quit work, but continued to draw his salary. In fact, his salary was doubled. Following this discovery came the allegations of a blackmail plot in which a man and a woman forced Warriener to pay heavily or have his own short-ago made public.

Cooke is alleged to have told Mrs. Ford of Warriener's shortage. Then he went to Chicago to escape her, having evidently decided to devote his attention to her. Mrs. Ford was taken to meet the crisis. She is alleged to have used the knowledge of the embezzlement to extort money and yet more money from Warriener, and to have employed this money in her mad pursuit of Cooke. She demanded money from one and love from the other, according to the stories told.

When the Cincinnati officers turned to Cooke in Chicago for light on the trial of Mrs. Ford, it was Mrs. Cooke who showed her husband the way to the woman's exposure. She declared that for ten years she had been fighting for her husband's love. Then it was that Cooke bared his breast and showed the scar of a bullet, which he declared had been fired at him by Mrs. Ford in a New York hotel.

Warriener has been tried and Mrs. Ford has been tried and Cooke, the third person in the mysterious case, is to stand trial. It is possible that the trial of Cooke may solve the mystery of why a man of high standing in the community and trusted by his employers could embezzle money and turn the bulk of it over to persons in whom he apparently had no interest. Warriener will be brought down from the penitentiary in Columbus to tell his story in court. Mrs. Ford also will be placed on the stand if her condition permits.

ENGLISH WOMEN MAY NOT GET SUFFRAGE

Chances For Passage of Measure by Parliament Are Small as Bill Will Probably Be Killed in Committee.

London, June 10.—Present prospects are that the woman's suffrage bill, which seemed to stand a fair chance two or three weeks ago of passing at the present session of Parliament, is now probably lost forever. That is to say, all signs point to its burial in committee.

Opposition to the measure has developed in radical rather than in conservative circles. It passed its second reading, it is true, by a comfortable majority, but when the progress was made it was clear that it was working against it. It has been working against it so effectively that it looks as if the lawmakers' feelings toward it had undergone a complete change.

The whole trouble with the bill is that it gives the franchise only to women householders. The result will certainly be that four out of five of all the new voters will be Conservatives. "We do not approve of universal adult suffrage," Author Henderson, a labor member of Parliament, says one of the leading suffragettes told him. "The franchise is too low already. The enfranchisement of women of property is the best remedy for the present condition." Henderson believes in woman's suffrage, but naturally this speech turned him against the pending bill. The consensus of progressive sentiment is that it is positively reactionary. It is certain that the House of Lords favors it.

ALL HEAT RECORDS ARE BROKEN TODAY

TODAY IS HOTTEST JUNE DAY EVER RECORDED BY WEATHER BUREAU OFFICIALS.

MANY PROSTRATIONS

Are Reported In All Cities Throughout the Country.—100 Mark Is Reached.

Chicago, June 10.—At two o'clock this afternoon the thermometer reached yesterday's high mark, 98.5, and half past two was still rising with every probability of reaching the 100 mark. This is the hottest day of the year and all heat records for a previous June 10, are broken.

Chicago, June 10.—At 10:30 this morning the government thermometer, marked ninety-three. On the street level the thermometers registered 35 higher.

By that hour one death and four serious prostrations were reported. Work in many down town offices was abandoned and street gangs of workmen laid off.

Forecaster Cox predicted record of a hundred degrees might be expected during the day.

At Milwaukee. Milwaukee, June 10.—The oppressive heat which for the past 36 hours has held the state in the grasp causing wholesale prostration here and elsewhere will be of short duration according to government weather bureau officials today. General rainstorms followed by cooler weather were predicted within the next twelve hours.

Children Prostrated. Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—Four school children taking part in the annual city school field day meet today succumbed to the excessive heat.

Cleveland Swelters. Cleveland, Ohio, June 10.—All heat records for June were broken here today when the mercury reached 100 degrees at noon.

Heat Records Broken. Chicago, June 10.—Heat records for June in Chicago were expected to be broken this afternoon. Weather officials anticipated that by late today the temperature would amount up to 100 degrees. Yesterday the highest was 98 and 5-10 degrees causing scores of prostrations in the poorer quarters.

One Dead In Racine. Racine, Wis., June 10.—The temperature here at two o'clock p. m. was 96 degrees. Six prostrations were reported. Anthony Jochum, aged 27, a molder, is the only heat victim so far. He died of heart failure following a heat stroke.

STENSON AND WOMAN SENTENCED TODAY

Man Given Year at Waupun and Mrs. Hallie Emmons Sentenced to Six Months at the Country Jail for Statutory Offense.

Roy Stenson was this morning sentenced to one year at hard labor in the state prison at Waupun commencing at noon today and Mrs. Hallie Emmons, who with Stenson was charged with a statutory offense, was given a fine of $300 or a term in the county jail until the fine has been paid of not to exceed six months, by Judge Fifield in municipal court. Neither had any money to pay a fine. The case was to have come up for the examination of the defendants on Monday morning, but the defendants this morning filed a petition to waive the right of examination and ask immediate trial. The petition was presented and the judge ordered the filing of the information by the District Attorney, after which both entered pleas of guilty and received their sentences. Asked if there was any reason why the court should not pass sentence, Stenson replied, "No," and requested the judge to be lenient. The woman made no plea. Both had lost most of the compound and brassieres which they exhibited when they were first arraigned. The woman was in tears when the case was called and tears were in her eyes when the judge pronounced sentence, but neither made any remarks after sentence was passed. Stenson's eyes were moist with tears.

JOHNNY KLING TO GO TO BOSTON DODGERS

"HELLO GIRL" FAINTS IN PHONE EXCHANGE AND MERCURY RISES

Mercury "Going Up," One Prostration in City, and Relief For This Section Promised Within Twelve Hours.

With one prostration reported in the city today, Jamesville is coming in for her share of the unprecedented hot wave which is sweeping over this section of the country. One of the central girls at the Rock county telephone office fainted away at the switchboard this morning, due to the excessive heat, this being the first reported case of the kind as yet here.

Although dispatches from weather bureaus in this section of the country are unanimous in predicting cooler weather, the sun continues to beat down without mercy. The lawns and green spots of the city are suffering and are turning yellow under the terrific heat. Everyone is doing their utmost of perspiration and the "coolness brigade" is taking on recruits hourly.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the mercury in different parts of the city was doing its share to uphold the general opinion that the day was a scorcher. Shortly after noon, the thermometer at the People's Drug Store registered 85 in the shade. The one at Hall and Styles which is located in the shade came to 85. Ninety-four was found to be the temperature at Baker's Drug store and the Hower City bank not far behind with 92 degrees. One thermometer in the Third ward showed 95 in the shade.

It seems that if popularity as a place of refuge speaks anything for the low state of temperature, the Court House park is a spot where relief may be found, as that place has been crowded to a "standing room only" capacity all day.

BIG BUSINESS DONE AT CARRIAGE PLANT

From the factory of the Jamesville Carriage Works a handsome bus, the largest of the line built at the local plant, was today shipped to Minot, N. D., for use in a hotel service there.

The carriage is a fine specimen of the work done in the local factory and is a splendid advertisement of "Made in Jamesville" goods, as all parts were built at the local plant. It is built on the order of the Parkside bus of Chicago with "Thurken" roller-bearing axles, such as are used in autos. The trimmings are of solid brass and the inside finishings are handbuffed leather.

It seems that if popularity as a place of refuge speaks anything for the low state of temperature, the Court House park is a spot where relief may be found, as that place has been crowded to a "standing room only" capacity all day.

A TRIBUTE.

Indian Ford Tribute.

Over thirty-five years ago Fred Letz and wife came from Germany to make for themselves a home in this country.

The first year they were here they shared the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Williams. Later they bought a home in Indian Ford, known as the Letz home.

Soon they were able to make many improvements. A new house took the place of the old one, one here was added to the small farm. Here their family of four children grew to manhood and womanhood.

The two older sons are settled near by in homes of their own. The daughter, Miss Monthly, resides in Chicago, visiting her parents from time to time as often as her business will permit.

The youngest son living at home is assisting his father with the care of the farm. It would seem with their children about them that this worthy couple's declining years might be restful and pleasant. But life is uncertain. Neighbors and friends know Mr. Letz had not been in good health for some time, but seeing him about almost every day doing some light work, or stopping to chat with them, he met, no one realized that his physical and mental strength was rapidly falling.

Monday afternoon, May 22nd, his death came as a shock to the inhabitants of the little village. Helpful hands and willing hearts were ready to do all in their power to make lighter the burden for the grief stricken family. Rev. W. Spillman of the German Lutheran church (of which Mr. Letz was a member) conducted the services at the home Wednesday, May 24th.

The beloved wife who was ill and confined to her bed was able to listen to the comforting words spoken by her pastor in the mother tongue.

The thoughtfulness of Mr. Clark made it possible for Mrs. Letz to see her husband for the last time. The beautiful song service helped greatly to soften the hard reality. Mr. Letz needs no eulogy. An honest, upright, industrious man, a good citizen, his home and his family were loves to him that all the world. His leaves beside the immediate family two brothers, William and Charles Letz and one sister, Mrs. Sobell, all of Fulton township.

The Airman's Courtship

Mr. Peabody lived for his daughter Lillian, one of the handsomest young girls among the "400." She was tall and graceful and had charmingly frank manners, as only an American girl can have them.

Tonight the great multi-millionaire gave a ball. It was now long past midnight and tired out with dancing, Lillian was sitting with young Count Pierre de Lussone, in one of the large salons of the Fifth avenue mansion.

The court moved a little closer to her and sat down on the luxurious divan covered with the skin of an immense polar bear. Pierre de Lussone lit a cigarette and they began to chat like old friends. She tried to tease him a little.

"So you have come over here to marry an heiress, you say?"

"Yes, or, rather, it was a syndicate of my creditors who sent me over. I am tired of everything and only consented because it gave me an opportunity to take this beautiful trip, my last voyage."

"People say you are going to marry Annie Stanger."

"That homely little silly! No, no. I could not do it, and none of the others who are willing to take me have enough money to guild our escutcheon."

"But what do you mean when you speak of your last voyage?"

"I am very fond of you, Miss Lillian, you are the only friend I have in this money crazed country, so I will tell you."

"My debts amount to three hundred and odd thousand francs. I am tired of a life which I despise, and I have no wish to prolong it. I am used to luxury, and I admit I am a coward, now that poverty or surrender of my self-respect stares me in the face. Tomorrow I am to make an attempt at breaking the record for altitude, and so I see a chance of ending my existence in a poetic manner, flying ever higher, toward the sky, until the rarefied air robs me of my consciousness, and puts me to sleep forever."

"Perhaps. But at any rate is will be a beautiful death and my family will believe it was an accident."

Lillian blushed a little and said softly: "I am coming to see you off. I will help you. It will be very exciting."

"Rather vexed, Lussone replied: "Of course, if you like sensations, you will get all of it you want."

Lillian took two flowers from a vase.

"Are they not lovely?" she said. "I do love orchids."

"I prefer these," he replied, pointing to the flowers she was wearing.

"Oh, the forget-me-nots, which you call myosotis. When you give them to anybody in this country, it means as much as a proposal."

Mr. Peabody's genial face appeared in the doorway.

"So here you two are sitting all alone."

"It is late. I must go home."

Lillian arrived at the aerodrome early. In her hand she held a great bouquet of yellow orchids.

Pierre was smoking nervously. Dressed in his airman's suit of fur and his close-fitting fur cap, he looked like a big sea lion.

His aeroplane was wheeled out of the hangar. Lillian was walking slowly at his side. His only thought was: "This is to be my last flight."

Lillian, raising herself on tiptoes, said to him: "Here, Pierre," (she had never called him by his first name before), "let me tie these flowers to your machine."

Then he gave the signal, and his mechanic started the propeller. There was a roar from the motor, a whirling buzz from the propeller and the powerful machine began to soar upward.

He puts on more speed. Upwards he flies. He passes through a layer of clouds. The air is biting, his face is frozen, his hands heavy and numb, and his coat collar seems to be growing too tight for him.

Lillian's bouquet tied firmly to the rod, is losing the petals of its flowers one by one, and Lussone says to himself: "This is the way my life will go, too."

Suddenly his eyes open wide. He sees a little blue flower, then one more, and again another. Under the orchids, robbed of their petals by the breeze raised by the propeller, appears a bouquet of forget-me-nots, the engagement flower.

Lussone glides towards the earth. His machine descends in a beautiful slow plane, with the grace of a bird, flying in circles rapidly growing smaller. The air whistles about his ears, he catches sight of the earth, touches it gently and stops.

Dazed with excitement, Pierre rises in his seat. The crowd yells with excitement. He has broken all records. A score of arms lift him up and carry him shoulder high through the madly excited throng. Lillian is there, her face is pale with emotion; she forgets everything, throws her arms about Pierre's neck, sobbing and laughing at the same time.

"Oh, dear! how I have been afraid. I have been terribly punished, but I may as well confess it right here—I would have married you, even if you had not broken the record, or I would never have married at all."

COMMERCIAL TEAMS ARE PLAYING TODAY

Parker Pen and Calorie Teams Clash on Diamond at Athletic Park, and Y. M. C. A. Meets Plumber.

Considerable interest is shown in the outcome of today's games of the baseball league of the Janesville Commercial Athletic Association at Athletic Park this afternoon. The Parker Pen and Calorie teams, which won last Saturday's games are playing together today and the Y. M. C. A. and Plumber players are matched. The lineups in today's games:

Parker Pen: Berger, 1st; Nehr, 1st; Hall, 2nd; Sullivan, 2nd; Hallon, 3rd; Rector, 3rd; Dewey, 4th; Abraham, 4th; Kinkoy, 5th; Hinton, 5th.

Calorie: Leavelle, 1st; Carroll, 1st; Hanch, 1st; Bradwell, 2nd; Wallisch, 2nd; Rector, 2nd; Krowan, 3rd; William Holt, 3rd; Neumiller, 4th.

Y. M. C. A.: Brown, 1st; Richards or Clark, 1st; MacDonald, 2nd; Downing, 2nd; Murphy, 2nd; Richards or Clark, 3rd; Elder, 3rd; Miller, 3rd; Robinson, 4th.

Plumber: Pirs, 1st; Denger, 1st; George, 1st; Mathews, 2nd; Palmer, 2nd; Miska, 2nd; Napes, 3rd; Slightum, 3rd; Napes, 4th.

Game Cancelled.
The Parker Pen Company team was scheduled to play a game with Beloit at Yon's Park Sunday, but as several members of the team could not be with the nine for the contest it was cancelled.

TO PLAY BALL WITH EVANSVILLE SQUAD

Breen, Croton and Smith To Play in Game Against Monroe At Plentic At Evansville Thursday.

Walter Breen of this city, Catcher Croton and Pitcher Smith of the Janesville City team will play at Evansville June 14, the day of the Irish picnic there, with the Cut-Off City baseball nine. Evansville will be matched against Fortville in the afternoon contest at the picnic. In the morning Monroe and Stoutland will play. Breen will act as captain of the Evansville squad on that day and Croton and Smith will play in their regular positions. A meeting of those interested in organizing a city team at Evansville will be held that evening to take definite action with regard to hiring Breen for the season as manager of the Evansville team for the season. A proposition was made to Breen some time ago with regard to securing him to take charge and at the coming meeting some arrangements between Breen and the promoters of the team will probably be made. The Evansville aggregation plays only week-day games and if Breen should take the management of the nine, it would in no way interfere with his work with the local team. Next Thursday Breen will play first base at Sharon against his old team, Delavan.

HIGH SCORES MADE BY LOCAL GUNNERS

W. McVicar and Dr. Gibson of Janesville Gun Club Broke 48 of 50 Targets At Shoot Yesterday.

Almost perfect scores were made by W. McVicar and Dr. J. W. Gibson of the Janesville Gun Club at the practice shoot of the club at the Fair Grounds yesterday, both breaking forty eight out of fifty targets. Thometz and Drake were their nearest competitors with scores of 42 each.

Beginning next Friday the members of the club will shoot for the sterling silver water tub trophy offered by the Dupont Powder Company for the winner of four fifty-yard events, which event to be shot off in four successive weeks.

The individual scores made yesterday:

THE JAPANESE BASEBALL PLAYERS.—Members of the University of Keio, Japan, baseball team as they appeared in the East after having toured from California through the middle West.

While their victories over the American college teams have not demonstrated their superiority in the baseball field, it still remains that they are playing good baseball and that they could probably hold their own with any team outside of the United States. This is remarkable in itself because of the fact that they have not had the years of baseball training and coaching which make American games famous.

HAVE THE TIGERS HIT THE TOBOGGAN?
At left, Connie Mack. At right, Hughey Jennings.

While nobody wishes Detroit hard luck, it would not hurt the feelings of other members of the American League if Detroit should drop from her high pedestal to within at least halting distance of the other teams. The Tigers seem to be in the midst of their troubles at present, and from no less an authority than Connie Mack of the Athletics comes the statement that when the champions meet the ex-champions the Tigers will drop still further down the list. Of course, this is a biased opinion, but at any rate the fight between Detroit and the Athletics will be a very important factor in determining the world's championship.

Should Detroit break even or better in the series, it will go far toward giving them a decided lead over their nearest rival. On the other hand, should the Mackmen win a decided victory over the Tigers, it will bring Detroit down to a point where they can connect with the other teams on the circuit without the use of the long distance telephone.

WEST SIDE PLAYERS WIN OPENING GAMES

Interesting Games and Brilliant Social Time Mark Opening of Season at Golf Club Yesterday.

With an eighteen-hole match between the east and west side, in which the latter was the victor, in the afternoon, a delightful dinner and dance in the evening and about one hundred people present throughout the festivities, the summer season at the Shinnelton Golf club opened auspiciously yesterday.

The condition of the weather and the course was favorable and the match was of a nature to be both close and interesting. Upon totaling the results the west side players were found to have a slight advantage and the dinners were furnished by their opponents. Following is the result of the match in detail:

East Side.	West Side.
Hicks ..... 0	Bailey ..... 2
McKey ..... 0	Baker ..... 2
Grant ..... 0	Hostwick ..... 0
Brewer ..... 3	Harris ..... 0
Sheldon ..... 0	McCoey ..... 0
Sutherland ..... 0	Schuller ..... 3
Brownell ..... 0	Morse ..... 0
Total ..... 0	Total ..... 7

Upon the completion of the games a dinner was served at the club house to which about one hundred sat down. Following this the floor was cleared and the evening given over to dancing. It was decided to have the weekly dinner and dance on Tuesday evenings as usual.

National Skat Congress.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 10.—There were big deals on in Pittsburg today. They were not deals in stocks or dirt, but in postboards of varied hues and diverse spots. The grand national tournament of the North American Skat league is on, with 2,000 players participating. Large delegations are here from Chicago, Milwaukee, Davenport, Baltimore, Newark, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Paul, New York, Oakland, Cal., and a number of other large cities throughout the country.

The South Side Turner Hall, one of the most commodious structures in the city, has been engaged for the army of players, and the playing sessions will continue there until Monday. The players will contest for several hundred prizes, including a grand cash prize of $1,000. The names of the winners will not be announced until Monday evening.

SMITH OF KENOSHA TO PITCH SUNDAY

Star Southpaw Twirler of Lake Shore League Has Been Engaged to Twirl For Local Team Tomorrow.

Smith of Kenosha, one of the stars of the Lake Shore league, will be here tomorrow for the game at the Fair Grounds and probably will pitch against the Madison City team who play the local city nine. Smith has a reputation of being a hard pitcher for the batters to face because he is able to puzzle them. He is a southpaw, but winds up with his right arm and sends the ball speeding toward the plate when the batter least expects it. Peterson will be on hand to pitch in case Smith cannot work in the box.

The contest promises to be one of unusual interest as the Madison aggregation are the pick of that city. Janesville recently played eleven innings to defeat Beloit and it may be that the local pastime will not be as fortunate in tomorrow's battle on the diamond at the Fair Grounds.

Everything in readiness for a lively match. The grounds have been fixed up to some extent and the field has been mowed so as to make the sport warm. The grandstand and entrance have also undergone quite extensive repairs and changes.

The lineup for Janesville is as follows: Smith, p.; Croton, c.; Hreen, 1b.; Miller, 2b.; Merkle, 3b.; Jung, s.s.; Kliney, r. f.; Williams, c.o.; Peterson or Smith, c.f.

ADAMS SCHOOL VICTORS IN ELEVEN INNINGS

In an exciting eleven inning contest this morning, the Adams school team registered another victory by defeating the Jefferson school by a score of 11 to 10. The stellar lights who shone most brightly throughout the game were School Brown and Plummer of the Adams school aggregation. Batters for the Adams school were Plummer and Shawson and for the Jefferson school Pear, Caffree and Kemmitt. This gives the former a total of three games won and one lost. They will take on the Garfield nine next.

THE INCUBATOR LEAGUES.

CLUB Blankenship's Salt Lake City team is leading the new Union Association. Charlie Bald's Norfolk outfit is making the Virginia League teams all up and speak. Frank (Doc) Isbell has transferred his Wichita Western League team to Pueblo, Colorado. Whona got away to a good start and is showing the way in the Minnesota-Wisconsin League. Dallas, Duro, Fort Worth and Oklahoma look to be the strongest contenders in the Texas League race. Again this season the champion Portsmouth team of the Ohio State League is out in front and going strong. The Central Association is giving a good show this season, with Galesburg and Ottumwa in the leading roles. Spokane and Vancouver are giving out the lessons and teaching the Northwestern League team how the game is played.

Coming from nowhere the Columbia team is speeding towards the top at a fast clip. In the South Atlantic League race, with Miller, McAllister and Brown hitting like a pile-driver, Akron looks to be the class in the Ohio and Pennsylvania League. The Montgomery team, which finished at the bottom last year, is making a good fight for the Southern League pennant this season. The Zanesville team is setting the pace in the Central League this season.

It has been several years since Vicksburg had a winning team, but this season the Hill Billies have cut losses and are remaining in the Cotton State League. The Spartanburg, Carolina Association club, has sold Outlander Walker to Washington, and Greensboro and Winston-Salem, of the same organization, have several classy players who will no doubt go higher up next season.

A little out of the ordinary to transfer a team that is leading the league but such is the case in the transfer of the Springfield Throated League team to Decatur. Poor attendance at Springfield caused the champions to beat it for other parts.

WHAT THE COXERS.

Sam Landford and Joe Jeapote have signed for a battle to take place in New York the latter part of the month. Willie Lewis has a bad hand, and has called off his best with Jimmy Clabby, which was to have taken place in New York, June 16. Jim Flynn has turned down an offer to go to London and fight Sam McVoy. Flynn will take on Carl Morris at Tulsa, Okla., on July 4.

MACHINE CO. OFFICE FORCE INVINCIBLE

Bookkeepers, Strengthened by Manager and Superintendent, Beat Shop Foremen in Baseball Game at Annual Picnic Today.

Employees of the Janesville Machine company today enjoyed their thirteenth annual picnic given at Yon's park, members of the factory force, their wives and families uniting in a day of festivities on the grounds. The picnicers, accompanied by the Bowser City Band, which furnished music throughout the day, went to the park this morning in a special car and trailer over the interurban line at eight o'clock. The most exciting event and the one most looked for was the baseball game between the office force and, including both the superintendent and manager, and the shop foremen, this morning. In this the office force proved their superiority over the foremen by the score of 10 to 5. The foremen had predicted an easy victory as they had been beaten last year and were prepared to put up a stiff game. They were considerably surprised, however, as their opponents were not so easily overpowered. The foremen had three pitchers in the box while Milliken pitched through the entire game and was at his best, deceiving the foremen's batters with his curves into swinging wildly in vacant air. A portion of the morning's program was also given over to races for the children and races and games were the pastimes for old and young this afternoon. The party will return to this city this evening.

The Cherry.

This popular fruit takes its name from Cerasus, Kerasant, a city of Asia Minor, from which region the cherry was first introduced into Europe by the Roman General Lucullus in the year B. C. 73. The cherry introduced by the Romans at the date given died out, and was reintroduced in the reign of Henry VIII. by Richard Haines, the fruiterer of that monarch.

Honor Memory of Col. Crawford.

Upper Sandusky, O., June 10.—Tomorrow will be the 129th anniversary of the historic burning of Col. Crawford by the Indians, and in accordance with a custom followed for many years the day will be observed with suitable ceremonies at the village of Crawford, this county, where a monument to the memory of Colonel Crawford was erected in 1877.

Colonel Crawford was a friend of General Washington and had distinguished himself at the battles of Long Island, Princeton and other memorable engagements of the revolution. In 1782 an expedition was organized in Pennsylvania to war against the Indians who had been murdering the unprotected women and children in the western settlements. Colonel Crawford, who had much experience in Indian fighting, was placed in command of the expedition. On May 26, 1782, Crawford's command began its march on horseback for the Sandusky plains. On June 4 the troops reached Wyandott town, three miles from Upper Sandusky, but not an Indian was to be seen. The following day, however, occurred the memorable battle of Little Island, and the next day, when the remnants of the command gathered here, it was found that Colonel Crawford, Dr. Knight and one of the guides were missing.

For four days Colonel Crawford and

Dr. Knight were paraded about by their savage captors and were obliged to submit to excruciating torture. June 11 was set for the colonel's death, and savages gathered about in great numbers. Dr. Knight, who was an eye-witness to Colonel Crawford's burning at the stake, and who was to undergo the same death the following day, fortunately managed to escape.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

"I don't care to be a hero
And wear medals on my breast;
I don't pine to be a comic
And be famed for quip and jest;
I don't hanker for a million;
Sordid riches are my dread.
I just want to be protected
So the flies won't bite my head.

"No one ever heard me sobbing
To go sailing o'er the main.
I have been across the water,
But for me—oh, not again.
What I'd like to do though, brother—
It's my one great burning wish—
Is to quit my job each summer
And just smoke my pipe and fish.

"I'm not like a lot of people
Who want that and who want this.
Maybe though in feeling this way
There's a lot of things I miss.
I just crave some simple blessings;
I have mentioned just a few.
Lastly, let me sleep each morning,
Unmolested, till I'm through."

—Oregon Journal.

The homely philosophy, expressed in this little scrap of verse, is worth adopting and cultivating because it touches humanity at the point of average contact where the great majority of us live.

Men and women are but children of larger growth and the education which the most of us enjoy comes through the time-worn channels of experience and observation.

The stock of plannings was never equal to the demand, and so the average mortal has ever been obliged to trudge along close to the ground with eyes of envy fixed upon what is deemed the more fortunate neighbor who has gone to the front in the race.

There are some lessons connected with child life, which are often overlooked and seldom studied to advantage. The happiest children are the children of the masses, because they live in an environment where wants are few and easily satisfied.

Go into the average home on a Christmas morning and note the shouts of glee as the children discover the rag dolls and homely toys expressive of a limited income, yet appreciated more fully than in homes where money is lavishly spent at Christmas time, and where wreckage follows the purchase as fast as little hands are able to destroy.

It requires but little to satisfy the wants of a child, and the little which the average home is able to furnish, brings more content and happiness than the extravagant expenditure which results in surfeit and an abnormal demand for more.

Think it is in the larger realm where men and women struggle with the greater problems of destiny. The child envies the expensive toy and its possessor, but forgets it over night, while we pursue the spirit which prompts it until it possesses us like a disease.

It is an old truism that "contentment is the essence of happiness," and someone has ridiculed the idea by claiming that the hog should be the happiest creature on earth because he is never in a hurry, and always at peace with himself. This may be a low order of happiness, and yet it applies generally to a kingdom where an all-wise Creator reigns supreme.

The creatures of this kingdom are as numerous as the grains of sand on the beach, and yet, from the insect without a name, through the long list of citizenship, contentment and happiness in the waterworld. Animal life, as well as child life, can be studied to advantage by students of observation.

Some people are so extremely sensitive that they fear contamination and so attempt to keep themselves "unspotted from the world" by standing aloof.

Their emotional nature so possesses them that they come to believe that they are God's peculiar people—so holy that they live in an atmosphere which is free from temptation. They are like hot-house plants, requiring constant care and perpetual sunshine for development.

The book of revelation is subject to all sorts of interpretation and adopted by all kinds of people to establish and support a great variety of creeds, but the great volume of nature, with its several kingdoms, unlightened by the text book of observation, corrects many errors.

The "school book" has something to say about the value of a sparrow, one of the least of the creatures in the animal realm—as compared to the value of a soul created in the image of its maker.

It might be well to remember that God has no pets in the animal kingdom. The love of a mother goes out to every child alike and her solicitude follows the erring, but she has no pets. So it is with the love of God.

When He wants to develop a sturdy oak that will stand the test of storm and wind for a century, He selects the seed which has hid itself away in the open field and directs the little tendrils to force their way down and take firm hold of the foundations beneath the surface.

The sapling in the forest may need sheltering from the blasts which the sturdy oak requires for development. In the realm of humanity is found the same variety of people, and they develop along similar lines, stimulated by the same loving care.

The sentiment expressed in the little poem, which introduces this article, is a popular sentiment because it touches average humanity. The busy workshop of life is not a playhouse, and while it may be natural to envy people of leisure, the fact should not be overlooked that a surfeit of idleness, to men and women, is like a surfeit of toys to the child.

The people who live the longest and get the most out of life, are the busy people who live by the way. The vacation which comes but once a year is appreciated and enjoyed. It means genuine rest and relaxation, and is not dependent on a large bank account. Wealthy people are usually busy people, but it is from this class that the "idle rich" are found, and while they are usually the most miserable people on earth, they are perhaps envied more than any other class.

What would the average mortal do with a million dollars, if he had it. He would go to Palm Beach in the winter, with a dozen trunk for his wife's wardrobe, and a maid to "look after her."

While she appeared in a new costume three times a day, he would make himself miserable by attempting to follow suit, and after the family had exhibited all their good clothes, they would pack up and go to the next town and repeat the performance.

Then you would come home and throw the "ducks" in a corner and sigh for the good old days when Mary was satisfied with a gingham dress and a two weeks' vacation.

Here's a little poem on contentment, from the Detroit Free Press, that sizes up the situation in a nutshell.

"Why should I think about dollars and dimes,
Quarters and halves and the five spots and tens?
Why should I fret about paucity times?
Look at the eggs that I got from my hens!
Look at the apples up above. They are blue;
That is a sunbeam that's dancing about,
Pansies in blossom and crocuses, too.
Once more it's time to go fishing for trout.

"Why should I worry and grumble and fret?
Why should I toll a few dollars to get gain?
Why should I spend all my efforts to get
More and more money will someone explain?
Hear the brook laugh as it ripples along,
Just get a glimpse of that wonderful sky.

Hear the sweet notes of that summer bird's song.
Can a rich man get more pleasure than I?
Let the men who love money go after it hard,
The struggle for wealth doesn't interest me;

—Oregon Journal.

—Oregon Journal.

—Oregon Journal.

I'd rather stretch out in my little back yard

Where the blue of the sky and the green of the trees
And the song of the birds and the bloom of the rose
Provide more enjoyment than money can buy.

I'd rather be happy than be one of those
Who work for a fortune, and make it—and die.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

THE FATHER OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

There was one man connected with the American Revolution whose memory does not receive the attention it deserves. His name is Samuel Adams. He did more to bring on the war than any other man. The thirteen colonies were widely separated. There was no concerted action, and they often worked at cross-purposes. Adams developed a system of correspondence among them, which resulted in uniting them in opposition to the tyranny of the mother country. For twelve years, from 1764 to 1776, he kept up an unceasing agitation. He literally threw himself, body and soul, into the work of arousing the colonies. He was not a great man perhaps, but he did a great work nevertheless. He was not eloquent, but he was persistent. His mission was to put others to work, and in this he was wonderfully successful. He had a discerning eye for young men of ability, and many who became leaders in the Revolution were "discovered" and set to work by him. He has been called the father of the Revolution, and why not? As one of his biographers says, Massachusetts led the colonies, Boston led Massachusetts, and Sam Adams led Boston. Bernard, the English governor of Massachusetts, used to say: "Damn that Adams. Every dip of his pen stings like a horned snake."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE WIDER VIEW.

Ever walk in a dense fog?
The mist shut out your vision, and the only clear space is that about you. As you walk the spot goes with you.

But—
Your neighbor has a like experience. It appears to him that he is walking in the midst of the only bright spot.

And thereby hangs a moral.
We are apt to self-center ourselves. Each of us thinks he sees clearly enough, while those about him are befogged.

Now, for instance—
You think your particular political party is the one best fit to serve the country, while your neighbor thinks your party unfit and you a blinded partisan.

See?
You think your particular church owns the real right of way up to the pearly gates. The other man thinks you are a religious bigot and that his spiritual route is along the straight and narrow way.

You think he is walking in a haze. He knows you are.
What is the matter?
It is because of the fog that surrounds us. We do not get up high enough to sweep the wide horizon above the mists.

Or, as some one says—
"Men live in a barrel, and they look out through the five auger holes they call their five senses and think they see the universe."

Therefore, my brethren—
Since we "see" through a glass darkly," let us be slow to say of another that he travels in the dark. We, too, are apt to be befogged.

Remember—
Now are the souls that are able to live always above the haze. Eternal sunshine settles on their heads.

And why?
Why, most of us will not be able to get the wider view until the earth fog shall have cleared away.

The one luminous spot that is about us, let us remember, is but a small one inside the greater circle. Our bright spot is only a speck in the fog. And it may be—
We shall know each other better
When the mists have cleared away.

In the Vernacular,
"My watch has stopped, and I can't make it go," said the woman, just in from her auto, laying the timepiece on the counter.

"What seems to be wrong?" asked the watchmaker, taking it up.

"I'm sure I don't know," said the owner, "but it won't spark."—Buffalo Express.

Too Harsh.
"Watched woman! you took advantage of my hospitality to steal my husband." "Pardon me, but it is exactly stealing where a guest, wishing a souvenir of an agreeable visit, carries away with her some trifling thing which her hostess gives every token of caring little for?"—Life.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthew Adams.)

By WALT MASON.

You fly in a passion and rear in foul fashion when something or other goes wrong, and people who hear you regret they are near you.

FOOLISH and wish you would money ANGER along. Man's never so foolish, dogmatizing and maulish as when he is prancing in wrath; and yet, in his snorting and silly enervating, he thinks he is cutting a swath. I don't mind the clanger of justified anger—a man has a right to be mad when standing a season of wrong and oppression by men who are spiteful and bad. And when he is hotter than flaming water, he ought to go up in the air, and kick out a rider and yell bloody murder, and bust a suspender and swear. But he who goes raving and pawing and raving whenever he trifles upset, deserves a good whack; he shows that he's lacking the sense to come out of the wet.

Beloit Man Discharged: David Kays of Beloit, charged with a statutory offense upon Lucille Hayner of that city, was discharged by Judge Rosen yesterday after the case was called in court. One witness gave evidence of a sensational nature, but the girl said on the stand that she could remember nothing of the incident and her mother did not desire to press the case. The judge declared that although he had an opinion of the case he would not force the action.

Sending Out Notices: County Clerk Howard Lee is sending out notices to the county clerks of the state, notifying them of the convention of those county officers at Green Bay, the latter part of the month. Mr. Lee is secretary of the organization.

Herd of Fat Cattle: George Charlton has received a herd of twenty-seven fat cattle from John W. Crisp, the Milwaukee owner of the Klondike stock farm near Beloit. The herd cost in the neighborhood of $2,300 and are said to be the fattest cattle ever delivered in Janesville. They will be at the Northwestern stock yards all day tomorrow and will be shipped to Chicago tomorrow night.

Had Fallen From Rocks: A dead better, which had evidently fallen into the river from the top of the rocks across from Burr's Springs, was seen by E. S. Peterson last night. His attention was called to it by a young calf at the top of the rocks, which seemed in distress.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR SCOUT COUNCIL

M. P. RICHARDSON WAS MADE CHAIRMAN OF BOY SCOUT COUNCIL AT MEETING THIS MORNING.

HAVE BEGUN DUTIES

Recruiting Officers Will Take Charge of Examining Scouts—Details of Organization Are Fast Being Completed.

At a meeting this morning of the executive committee of the Boy Scout Council, officers were elected and further work of organization was completed. The officers named were: M. P. Richardson, chairman; Prof. Jno. Arbutnot, vice-chairman; Harry R. Pearson, treasurer; Charles W. Reeder, secretary; and W. H. Dougherty and Prof. John Arbutnot, recruiting officers.

The entire membership of the Scout Council has not yet been determined, but the above will constitute the officers and will have charge of the routine work. The Scout Council usually consists of the Mayor, Chief of Police, members of the common council, other city officers and prominent citizens of the city who care to take a part in the movement. It is thought at present that the Janesville Council will be composed according to the usual plan.

At present there is in the neighborhood of a hundred boys who have already taken the oath of the Scout and are registered as Tenderfoots. A like number have signified their intention of belonging and are busy learning the Scout Law and other requirements. When well under way there will be three or four hundred of the boys of the city recruited to the Scouts.

The entire work of giving the examinations of the order and administering the oath will be in the hands of the recruiting officers, Prof. John Arbutnot and W. H. Dougherty. They may find it necessary to appoint assistants in the work but they will have a general supervision of the recruiting and will act in conjunction with the Scout Masters.

It is the present plan of the executive committee to divide the city into a certain number of districts, perhaps after the ward divisions, and organize the Scouts from the different districts into troops, one from each district. The troops will be made of patrols of a certain number of Scouts. Over each troop there will be a Scout Master to be appointed by the Executive Council, who must be over twenty-one years of age and possess the requirements for the position. Each patrol and troop also will have officers from among the boys selected by the Scouts themselves. At present Capt. Jack is acting as a Scout Master for the entire squad, but later when the division into districts has been made officers will be appointed.

It is the duty of the officers that Scout suits be obtained at an early date and with this in view they have ordered samples of the uniforms from two different houses. The price of the suits will be between three and four dollars. The plan will be to have the Scout ordering a suit to deposit the money with the treasurer of the executive committee who will send for the suit after the measurements have been taken. It is planned to have the suits here for the Scouts to use in the dress parade on July Fourth when the Scouts will occupy the first position in the morning military procession directly behind the Bower City Band. Badges for the Scouts have been ordered and are expected soon. Literature will be received from the Scout Headquarters at an early date which will give further information as to the methods of handling the Scout organization.

The Executive Committee are anxious to give the credit for the starting of the Scout movement to Mrs. George C. Hyde, director of music and drawing in the city schools, through whose untiring efforts the Scout organization has become a reality. She has been an ardent worker and it was her suggestions to the students and her enthusiasm which interested the public. She has been instrumental in selecting the Executive Committee and preparing the entire organization of the local Boy Scouts. Her interest in the movement will remain unabated although the organization will now take up the work which was started through her efforts.

APPLY TO CITY TO EXTEND TRACKS ON NORTH MAIN STREET

Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway Company Make Application For Ordinance Giving Additional Rights.

There was filed yesterday in the office of the city clerk by the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville Railway company, an application for an ordinance granting additional rights and privileges to the company, including the extension of their line on North Main street. The text of the proposed ordinance was also filed with the city clerk.

The company, which is the same as the Beloit and Janesville company, asks for a franchise giving them the right to extend and operate their railway from the tracks of the Janesville Traction company at the intersection of Main and East Milwaukee street, along North Main street to the north side of Prospect avenue. The ordinance and franchise asked for is in addition to the one already held by the company from the city of Janesville.

The time of the franchise which is asked for, is for fifty years, to be dated from May 13, 1910, when the original franchise of the company was granted. The ordinance filed also asked for the right and privilege to construct on Prospect avenue in the vicinity of the intersection with Main street, any tracks which will be needed by the company. It is further set forth that the proposed extension is necessary for the purpose of unloading package freight and express or United States mail at the company's station at the corner of North Main street and Prospect avenue.

The terms of the ordinance presented do not ask for an exclusive franchise on the streets in question and in the case that any other railway corporation should desire to use a portion of North Main street for the purpose of entering the city of opening a railroad, it shall be permitted to use the tracks and railway of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville company on North Main street. This, of course, presupposes that the company has secured a franchise from the city and has come to terms with the present company. Arbitration will be resorted to if the two companies can not come to terms.

The ordinance also provides that it shall take effect after its passage and the measure undoubtedly come up before the common council at their next meeting.

CHURCHES UNITE IN A MOVEMENT TO AID LEPERS

Organization of Missionary Nature, Interdenominational, Will be Formed in This City Soon—Lecture on Leprosy Last Night.

Interdenominational in its character, in that all of the evangelical churches will be included in its membership, an organization will be formed in this city for the purpose of aiding in the work among lepers, in bettering the conditions of their life and furthering the work of the missionaries among them. A committee composed of one member from each church, representing the churches, met last evening and a meeting will be held next week to enlarge this committee, one member at least, from each church being added.

Mrs. A. J. Ingersoll of the Congregational church is the chairman and will issue the call for the next meeting. The other members of the committee are: Mrs. D. Conger, Baptist church; Mrs. J. R. Lane, Methodist church; Mrs. J. K. Jensen, English Lutheran; Mrs. Marion Dow, United Brethren; Mrs. Mary Fox, Trinity Episcopal; and Mrs. Archie Held, Presbyterian.

At the Congregational church last evening a lecture, under the auspices of the churches above named, was given by John Jackson, secretary of the mission to lepers. Mr. Jackson, who is an expert in the work, and his experience in the work is wide. He told of the life among the unfortunate who are stricken with the dread disease, which is the lowest form of helplessness and misery. Social ostracism is the decree against the afflicted, besides the physical disability caused and the victims are tormented by the belief that the disease is punishment for their sins. Conditions among them, the speaker stated, have been improved through the establishment of colonies where the lepers are properly housed instead of being forced to live in dirty huts of mud and sticks. Religious work is also conducted among them and efforts have been organized in many of the colonies. In the colonies the sufferers find means of amusement and each has a small garden plot to take care of. To keep up the spirits of the children a boys' brigade has been organized in one of the colonies.

The lecture was graphically illustrated with pictures of the life of the lepers and views of Japanese life were also shown, the speaker giving a short lecture on these.

Toward the betterment of the condition of the lepers Mr. Jackson said that scientific men are working to discover an anti-toxin for leprosy.

Previous to the lecture last evening a supper in Mr. Jackson's honor was served in the parlors of the Congregational church by the Women's Foreign Missionary society. The clergy of the city were invited to the supper and nearly all were present.

SHELTON CASE WAS ADJOURNED TODAY

Case Postponed Ninety Days and Will Be Dismissed When Shelton Fulfills Certain Conditions.

Charges against W. E. Shelton of Cheyenne, Wyoming, accused of obtaining money under false pretenses, were practically dismissed in municipal court today when the case came up for hearing. The dismissal is conditional, however. The case was adjourned ninety days, or to September 1, as the tenth comes on Sunday. Shelton is required to furnish a bond of $75 for his appearance in case the charges are not dropped, and be given his freedom but must keep in communication with the sheriff so that he may be called here at any time should he be wanted and agree to pay the Edgerton Tobacco Exchange $75, the amount of the check which is alleged Shelton passed and passed there. The motion for adjournment of the case was made by the attorneys for the prosecution, District Attorney Stanley Dunlap and Attorney L. E. Gottle, who represented the bank. It is understood that in case Shelton fulfills all the obligations imposed before the time of the adjourned hearing, the charges are to be dismissed. It was held that this would be the fairest way to the county to dispose of the case. In order to conduct the case for the prosecution it would be necessary to secure witnesses from Wyoming, Montana, and Iowa, besides those from the county, and the expense of bringing them from out of the state would amount to between six hundred and a thousand dollars.

JANESVILLE FISHERMEN ENJOY GOOD SPORT AT RED CEDAR LAKE, WIS.

Ye followers of the sport of Isaac Walton, ye spinners of the yarn, pleatatorial, take notice. Look well to your barrels ye mighty casters of the fly, for here are three Janesville fishermen who come to claim all honors in the line of the gentle pastime, angling. All hail the mighty fishermen just returned from the wilds surrounding the great Red Cedar Lake in northern Wisconsin, J. D. King, Alex. Buchanan and L. D. Barker. The three returned from a fishing trip today bringing with them all the black bass from the lake that the law allows and a fine new set of fish tales that are scarce exceeded by the stories of the great father-father of fishing, Isaac Walton himself. The party left here last Sunday and have enjoyed a week of sport on the lake, some phenomenal catches being made.

SEEKS INFORMATION REGARDING BARKER

District Attorney Malone Wants Information Concerning Man Alleged to Have Raised Bower City Bank Draft.

A circular was received this morning at police headquarters from the office of District Attorney John A. Malone of Baraboo, asking for information concerning the criminal record and record as an inmate patient of James Barker, alias William James, who is held for trial there for raising a draft issued by the Bower City bank of this city from $9 to $30 and attempted to pass it in Baraboo. Barker or James represented himself as a bridge worker when he secured the draft. In Baraboo he rented a house from a real estate agent and ordered bills of goods from hardware and furniture men there, attempting to pay for them with the draft. He now claims, the circular says, to have been an inmate of an insane asylum.

SEVERAL NEW SALES BY EDGERTON FIRMS

Rosenwald Company Reported to Have Taken Several More Lots of Edgerton Dealers.

There is but little change to note regarding the market for cured leaf. Many lots in growers' hands are being brought in thoroughly and taken over whenever found, according to the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter of June 9th. The Rosenwald firm has added a few more lots to its extensive recent purchases during the week. We learn that about 6000 of 10 were secured of the E. G. Borden Co., also the packing of Halverson & Bitters at Stoughton. B. Harwick & Sons sold them a 4000 lot of '08. The trade generally continues on a small order basis.

The shipments out of storage reach 200 cases from this market to all points for the week.

This has been a busy week with tobacco growers who are devoting long hours to the transplanting of the crop. While most growers believe it a trifling early for transplanting the crop to the fields, they are compelled to hustle along the work because the size of the plants makes it imperative. The transplanting is being done under favorable conditions generally and but for the damage being done to plants by cutworms, which are quite troublesome on some fields, the situation would be entirely satisfactory.

TO ATTEND BAPTIST CHURCH CONFERENCE

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Hazen Will Be Delegates from Local Church at Sessions at Philadelphia.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hazen will leave Monday morning for Philadelphia to attend the Northern Baptist convention which will be held there June 13 to 18. They will act as delegates from the local church, and will leave Chicago Monday on a special train over the Pennsylvania line for the Pennsylvania line for the special accommodation of the Baptists at this session at this conference there will be representatives from the Baptist churches north of the Mason and Dixon line.

Following this convention there will, June 19, be held the Baptist conference in which the churches of the North and South and Canada will be represented. On June 20 to 25 inclusive will be held at the same place the Baptist World's Alliance which will be a gathering of the Baptists throughout the world. Rev. and Mrs. Hazen will attend all the sessions of the various conferences and will be absent about two weeks.

The meetings will be held in the Baptist Temple in Philadelphia and notable clergymen and laymen representing many different districts will give addresses. Rev. Dr. Clifford of London, England, president of the World's Alliance, will be present and give an address. The gatherings promise to be productive of a great deal of value to the church and the sections of the country represented.

During Rev. Hazen's absence President Dr. Land of Milton College and Rev. Catelpho will occupy the pulpit.

NUMBER OF AUTOS IN CITY ARE INCREASING

MAJORITY ARE PLEASURE CARS ALTHOUGH MANY FIRMS USE DELIVERY TRUCKS.

MANY CARS BOUGHT

During the Past Few Weeks—Farmers Are Investing in the "Machine" For Use on Farms.

That the automobile has come to Janesville to stay is evidenced by the increasing number of autos that have been purchased within the past few months. Local auto dealers state that they estimate that there are over two hundred cars now owned in the city, although this number may be less than those actually owned here.

Toughly estimated, the local agents have this spring sold some fifty or sixty cars to local people. The majority of them are high-grade machines and all of them are standard make cars. The city has four garages and one vulcanizing establishment and all are kept unusually busy.

Among those who have purchased new cars recently may be numbered the following:

Marmion, M. G. Jeffries; Marmion, Dennis Hayes; Corbin, A. J. Harris; Kiesel-Kar, N. L. Carlo; Overland roadster, model 56, L. Brownell; Overland, model 61, W. J. Rice; Overland, delivery, Dierick Bros.; Overland, model 51, J. Haight; Murlon roadster, Dr. Mann; Case, J. S. Pflold; Monitor, C. W. Schwartz; Monitor, Roosting Bros.; Maxwell, H. D. Wikom; Cadillac, J. Z. McFar, J. E. Kennedy, T. O. Howe; E. M. F., Dr. E. E. Loomis, J. P. Schopf; Maxwell, C. P. Garat, Ed. Murphy, W. Kennedy, Ed. Winslow; city life department, Hulek.

As may be seen from the above list, many of our prominent merchants and dealers are using motor trucks and delivery cars. They find that the motor delivery is not only a very great financial saving but that it is also a great advantage to their business. The Monitor, a motor truck manufactured by a local company, is used by several of our prominent firms, namely: Pflold Lumber Co., Schwartz Transfer Co., Roosting Bros., The Overland delivery car, sold by Sykes & Davis, is being used by the Dierick Bros. grocery. Tarrant & Osgood use a "Hulek" truck, and the Janesville Steam Laundry finds it profitable to use an old Cadillac.

But the great increase in sales has not been going on in the city alone. A far greater number of sales have been made in the country than in the city. The Reed-Grogo agency estimate that they alone have sold fully forty-one cars among the farmers of the nearby vicinity. Of these the greater majority have been Fords, although a few of the cars "placed" were large cars. The farmers seem to almost all favor the "Ford" as a country man's car. They are not only light and strong but they seem to give the owner his money's worth. Owing to the prosperous condition among the farmers, the demand for cars is very much greater than that of last year. In fact, it is so large that one local agency had it difficult to fill their order. This demand for motors among the farmers is not limited to this vicinity but instead is a widespread movement. The farmer of today is not the slow, plodding man of fifty years ago. Today he is always in the van and can never be found behind the times.

WOULD TEACH SEX HYGIENE.

Charles W. Elliot Says Evils Should Be Discussed in Public.

Boston, June 10.—Notable men and women from all parts of America who assembled in Ford's hall heard the subject of sex hygiene discussed by eminent speakers. Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Boston took issue with Charles W. Elliot of Harvard on the question of teaching the subject to the young. The meeting was a section of the national conference of charities and corrections.

"The evils of society brought about by sexual immorality cannot be cured unless made a matter of public discussion," said Doctor Elliot to the big audience. "I think we are all persuaded of the necessity of a great reform movement."

Doctor Cabot said: "If these social evils are due to ignorance, why are there so many morphine users among medical men? I think the ignorance on sex hygiene is perhaps less than is supposed."

NEGRO ASSAULTS WOMAN OF 70.

Dead Arouses Great Indignation at Cairo, Ill.—Posse Seek Black.

Cairo, Ill., June 10.—An attack upon Mrs. Mary Malone, a white woman seventy years old, by an unidentified young negro, has aroused great indignation.

Sheriff Frazer with a posse, as well as independent groups of citizens, are looking for the negro.

Mrs. Malone was seized as she stepped out of her home and dragged by the negro to a clump of high weeds in which he had hidden.

A description of the negro has been sent to all neighboring towns.

Many Workmen Are Trapped.

Havana, June 10.—A section of the aqueduct of Havana's new sewage system, now under construction by McGivney & Rokey of New York, collapsed, entombing a large force of workmen. Rescuers have taken out one body and five injured men from the debris.

Why? Oh, Why?

"It seems strange," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "that when a man reaches for a shirt he often finds it buttonless, but when he is called upon to button up his wife's dress in the back he finds every one of the 36 buttons in place."—Yonkers Statesman.

DIG LAKE BOAT LINES MERGE.

Five Companies Controlling 21 Steel Freighters Are Consolidated.

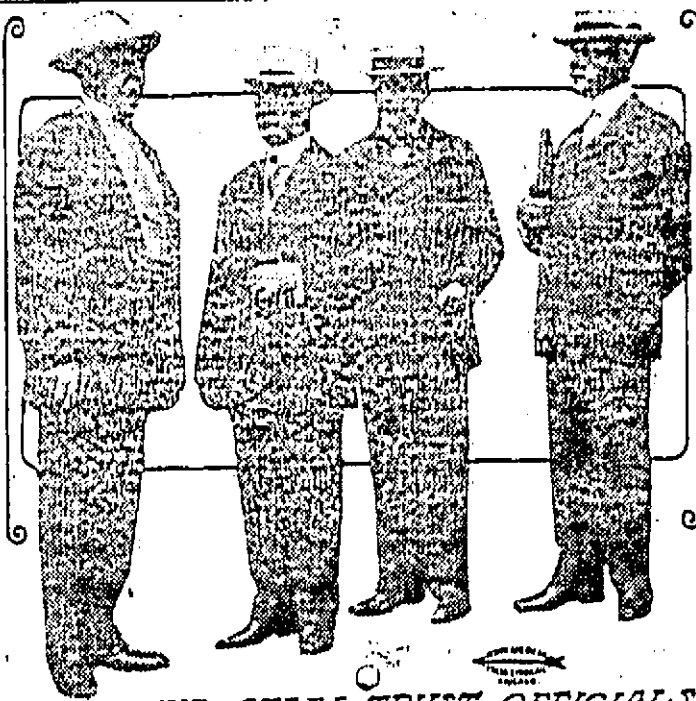

Cleveland, O., June 10.—The largest steamship merger on the Great Lakes since the formation of the Great Lakes and the steel trust fleets was effected when the shipping touches were put upon the merger of five companies controlling twenty-one of the finest bulk steel freighters on the inland seas. These included the various companies in which Horace S. Wilkinson and his Syracuse associates are dominant.

The companies merged are the United Transportation company, the L. C. Smith Transit company, the Wilkison Transportation company, the Standard Transportation company and the American Transit company.

The new company takes the title of the Great Lakes Steamship company. It will have a paid-in capital of $6,000,000 and a bond issue of $1,500,000, bearing interest at six per cent.

World Demands Noble Purpose.

The world does not demand that you should be a great man, but that with a noble purpose, a high endeavor, and a useful end in view, you shall make yourself a master in your line.

The Little Housekeeper

AUNT PHOEBE did not live in one of the great city streets, but far out in the country in one of the dearest little white cottages you ever saw.

Crimson ramblers chased each other all over the little cottage, and people passing by on the country road paused to look at the beautiful little home.

And Aunt Phoebe was such a dear old lady. But there is another little character who plays a part in this story, and her name is Bertha.

Bertha lived in the city, and there was nothing that delighted her more than the yearly visits to her Aunt Phoebe's cottage.

School had closed and Bertha found herself once again in the beautiful country with her aunt.

Of course, while the weather was fair there were a hundred and one things a little girl like Bertha could do, but when it was rainy, why, the time dragged very slowly.

And this was one of the rainy days, where Aunt Phoebe was making pie.

For over an hour she had played house in the kitchen.

"I wish I could think of something to play," she said, coming close to the kitchen table.

"You can't think of anything to do?" asked Aunt Phoebe kindly.

"Not a single thing," said Bertha.

"Why don't you help me with the cooking?" said her aunt.

"And can I make a pie, just as you are doing?" asked Bertha, all excited.

"And when Aunt Phoebe told her she might she was very happy. First Aunt Phoebe loaned her one of her big aprons. Then a chair was placed close to the table for Bertha to stand on.

And what a fine time the little housekeeper had. And you should have seen the dear little pie she made. Just about the size of the palm of your hand, and filled with the most delicious apples you ever tasted."

In spite of its being rainy it was one of the best days of Bertha's whole life.

THE MARMON

"The Easiest Riding Car in the World"

Wins the International Sweepstakes 500 Mile Race

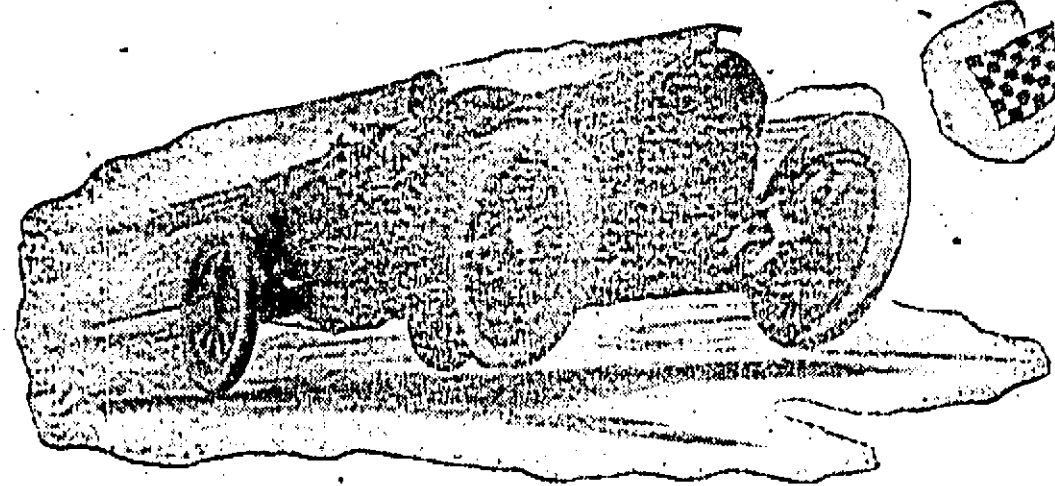

THE GREATEST SPEED EVENT MANKIND HAS EVER KNOWN—THE INTERNATIONAL Sweepstakes—run on the Indianapolis Speedway, May 30, was won by Ray Harroun driving a Marmon, 500 miles in 6 hours, 42 minutes and 8 seconds, averaging

74.61 Miles Per Hour for 500 Miles

IN the competition were the most famous drivers in the world and forty cars—among them the finest that Europe and America have produced. The Marmon hood was not raised during the long grind of 500 miles. Not a drop of new water was put in the radiator. Perfect lubrication and no mechanical trouble of any kind. There were but four tire changes on the winning Marmon—three of the original tires finished the race. Joe Dawson in

Another Marmon Took Fifth Place

THIS is a fitting climax to the brilliant racing record of the victorious Marmon which already has to its credit the longest and most remarkable list of important racing victories ever won by any make of motor car. There can be but one logical conclusion that will interest the buyer—Marmon Design, Marmon Materials, Marmon Workmanship Must Be Right.

WE'D be glad to tell you more about the Marmon, or ask any owner. There are several in Janesville. Mr. Dennis Hayes has just purchased one. Ask us for a demonstrating ride in one. Absolutely without obligation to buy. Literature free.

U. S. CORPORATION TAKES OVER
MILLION-DOLLAR CONCERN AT CLEVELAND.

LAW VIOLATED FOR 10 YEARS

Director of Big Company Tells Stanley Committee of Illegal Agreements—Gayley Describes Morgan-Hill Coalition to Block Carnegie.

Cleveland, O., June 10.—The Russell-Presley company of this city, one of the largest jobbing concerns of finished steel products in the United States and a competitor of the United States Steel corporation, has just been acquired by the latter concern.

The consideration is said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The new concern will be used by the steel corporation, it is understood, in marketing its products exclusively.

Says Pools Controlled Prices. Washington, June 10.—That pools or agreements, effectively controlling prices existing between manufacturers of rails and structural material down to 1900 in violation for ten years of the Sherman anti-trust law was admitted to the Stanley steel investigation committee by Percival Roberts, Jr., of Philadelphia, a director in the steel corporation.

Mr. Roberts is director also in the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the National bank of Philadelphia, the Philadelphia and New York Terminal company, the New York and Hudson railroad, the Land Title company of Philadelphia, and other corporations, but insisted his duties never conflicted.

Common Directors Have No Vote. "Whenever a question of contract between the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the steel corporation arises, the common directors in both companies have no vote on the matter," he said.

These common directors are Mr. Roberts, Clement A. Griscom and W. F. Frick. As vice-president of the American Bridge company, Mr. Roberts told of the warfare among the 25 subsidiary companies forming the American Bridge company before they had been brought together and of inter agreements with independent companies to prevent destructive competition.

Confirm Gates' Story. James E. Gayley, former vice-president of the steel corporation and a partner in the Carnegie Steel company, confirmed the statement of John W. Gates that Andrew Carnegie seriously contemplated building a tube mill and a railroad from Pittsburgh to New York. Mr. Gates said that J. Pierpont Morgan, who had an interest in the American Tube company, and James J. Hill, the railroad magnate, feared Carnegie would demoralize the tube and railroad business, and so brought about the formation of the steel corporation. This was the first mention of James J. Hill in connection with the organization of the steel trust.

Frick Deal Before Grand Jury. Pittsburgh, Pa., June 10.—The federal grand jury continued its investigation into the affairs of the Pittsburgh Coal company and the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company, relative to the transfer of coal and coking proportion valued at $17,800,000 to the U. S. Frick Coal company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, to ascertain whether there has been any attempt to create a monopoly in the coking industry. E. J. Taylor, chief engineer of the Pittsburgh Coal company, was the first witness called.

DRESS REHEARSAL IN ABBEY. Coronation Ceremony Performed, With Pastboard for Crowns.

London, June 10.—The coronation ceremony was rehearsed in the abbey church of St. Peter, Westminster. Many of the principal participants were crowned in the robes which they will have to all June 22, the day on which King George will be crowned. The entry into the abbey, the procession up to the altar and the religious services all were rehearsed. The archbishop of Canterbury performed the actions of crowning and anointing without all those representing King George and Queen Mary. The crowns on this occasion were circular pieces of pasteboard.

ELBERT HUBBARD LOSES LOCKS. Sacrifices Flowing Hair to Win St. Louis's $500.

East Aurora, N. Y., June 10.—On a bet of $500 with William Marlon Reedy of St. Louis, Elbert Hubbard invaded the village barber shop and let the local hair dresser apply the horse clippers. Mr. Hubbard emerged minus the flowing locks, he has worn for years. The $500 was paid to him immediately.

CHINA WANTS COIN; SENDS A WARSHIP

FLOWERY KINGDOM ASKS $8,000,000 INDEMNITY FROM MEXICAN GOVERNMENT.

SENDS A BATTLESHIP ALONG

Killing of 303 Celestials and Destruction of Property Results Demand for Apology and Aid for Destitute Families of Victims.

Mexico City, June 10.—Indemnity of 12,000,000 pesos ($8,000,000) for the massacre of 303 Chinese during the Mexican revolution will be demanded of the Mexican government by a Chinese cruiser now on the way to Mexico. The Chinese charge d'affaires is authority for the news. In a statement given out he said: "If the matter is acted upon favorably all will be settled amicably; if not I shall give the world the full reports of the acts of savagery committed in Torreon."

Three investigators have returned from Torreon and placed in the hands of Shung Hui Sun, charge d'affaires of the Chinese legation, a detailed report of the carnage. This report shows 303 Chinese were killed and that, besides a bank and clubhouse, 89 places of business were sacked.

Victims Torn Limb From Limb.

In the detailed report the Torreon massacre is laid at the door of both sides in the revolution.

The report recites many tales of barbarous slaughter—stories of how victims' arms and legs were tied to horses and their bodies torn asunder; heads cut off and savagely rolled about the streets as the Mexicans grinned in glee; bodies cut into bits and scattered about the streets and of dead and half dead Chinese dragged about the town at the ends of ropes attached to horses.

Blood dripping through the floor in the Chinese bank was evidence of the murder of 25 men in the second story.

An American woman saved the life of one Chinese boy by throwing her arms about his neck as the Mexicans were about to stab him and a Mexican girl protected nine Chinese in her home after her father had been shot dead when he protested he was not harboring any orientals.

The report says this slaughter kept up until a party of business men, headed by the American consul, demanded that the rebel leader stop the massacre.

Apology and Aid Demanded. In addition to the indemnity an apology for insult to the Chinese flag will be demanded; also that aid be extended to destitute families of the victims, that the guilty be punished, and that the constitutional guarantees of protection to Chinese lives and property be made effective.

Of the $8,000,000 indemnity to be asked $1,000,000 is for property damage and the remainder for the loss of lives.

Commenting upon the matter, Mr. Shung declared that, owing to the savage manner in which the Chinese were killed, there has been no attempt by his nation to fix the amount of the indemnity by prescribed methods.

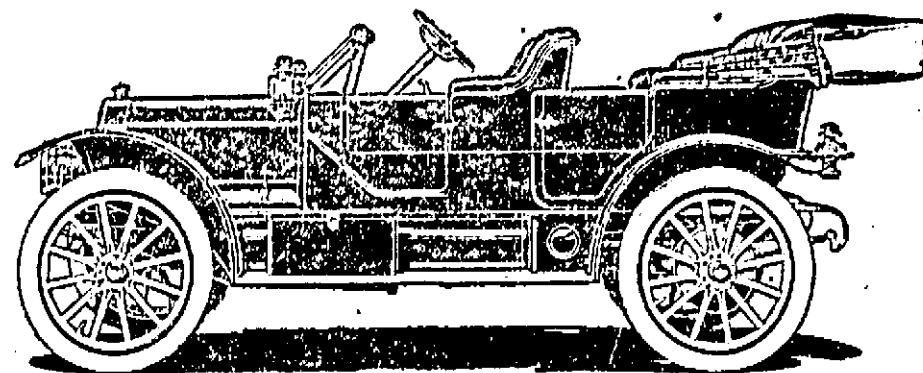

Headed Him Off.
"Sir, your daughter told me to come to you and—"
"All right, sir—all right—but I'm busy now. Would you mind keeping tally while I check up these bills I have just received for her Easter outfit? There now. Thank you. What is it?"
"I declare! I have forgotten what I was going to say to you. Good day."

A Commercial Mystery.
"The man who gets out this tobacco is mighty liberal," said the smoker.
"Hain't been giving you overweight, has he?"
"No. But for a small coin he gives me a beautiful tin box, artistically embossed and decorated in colors, together with a liberal supply of literature and fancy paper. What I don't understand is how he can afford to put in any tobacco."

Not Necessarily Fatal.
"My husband has no organic trouble, I think, doctor; it's merely a condition of depressed vitality. About this time of the year, too, he feels his old attack of wanderlust coming over him, and—"
"In that all, madam. Give him one of these pills every four hours when he feels an attack of it coming on. If that doesn't knock it sky high I'll eat my hat."

Motor Cars

Rambler Sixty-three

TIRE trouble destroys the pleasure of touring and converts your outing into drudgery unless you drive a Rambler. This is the only car in America equipped with the Spare Wheel. It eliminates worry about tire trouble by making it so easy to substitute a wheel with a perfectly inflated tire for an injured one. No tiresome pumping in the hot sun or cold rain. The change is quickly made and provides a permanent remedy. Every feature of the Rambler is designed for the owner's comfort, safety and convenience. The Offset Crank Shaft enables you to throttle down on high gear no faster than a man usually walks; to glide along quietly without frequent gear shifting in crowded traffic, and obviates the necessity of rushing the hard pulls through sand and up grades. The Straight Line Driveshafts power, big wheels and tires afford added comfort and tire economy; the brakes are larger than necessary; the safety starting device protects you from injury while cranking.

BUY A CAR THAT ANYONE CAN DRIVE

A child can handle the Brush Runabout. Louis Abernathy, 9 years old, after three lessons, drove it all the way from New York to Oklahoma on his famous trip to meet Roosevelt.

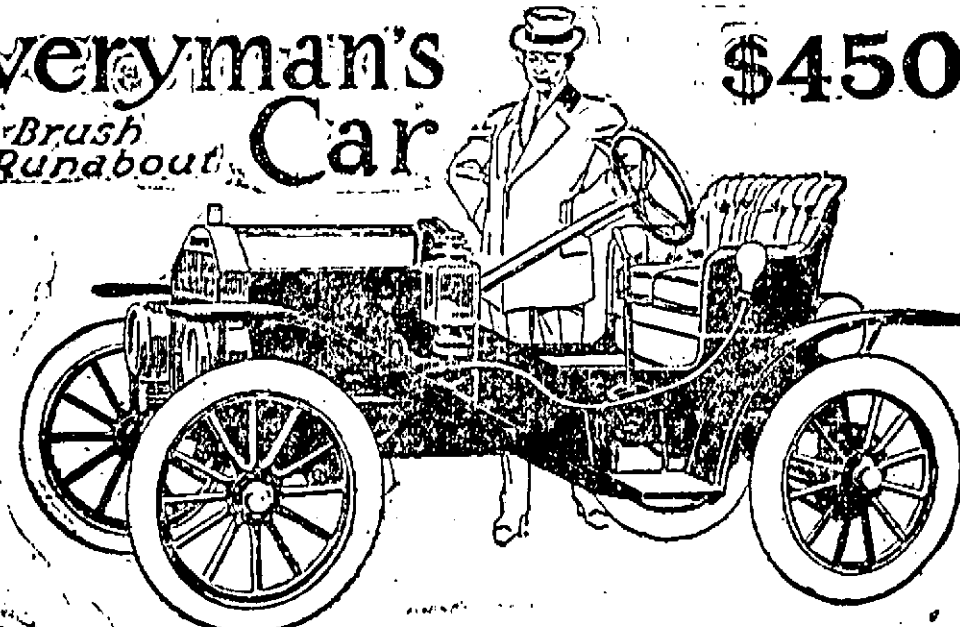

Any member of your family can drive the Brush. When your wife drives an automobile she wants a car that does not get out of order. She wants no complicated mechanism to worry her. She wants a motor which she can crank easily. She wants to drive with as little recourse as possible to gear shifts, levers, foot pedals and the necessary complications of other cars. She cannot get these qualities in any big car or in fact, in any but ONE car. The complexity of the big car mechanism is duplicated in every small car except the Brush, which is totally different—the perfection of an original idea in motor car construction.

In the last Munsey tour the Brush proved it could do anything any big car could do except travel at excessive speed. In the hands of thousands of owners it has proven itself able to meet daily demands made upon it without mechanical difficulties of any sort and at a minimum of expense.

The REO Is "All There"

Whatever test you apply to the Reo you'll find it "all there." It has all the qualities you want in a motor car.

HILL CLIMBING—You want a car that will take grades without much let-up of speed, and the best test of that is mountain climbing.

The Reo (the same car, by the way, that went from New York to San Francisco in 10 1/2 days) climbed to the top of Mt. Hamilton in California—a distance of 24 1/2 miles in 65 minutes, beating the former world's record by 10 minutes.

RACING—You may not want to go over sandy roads at 52 miles an hour; but you do want a car with the power and ability that this speed implies.

On October 15, 1910, the Reo raced over a very sandy 50-mile road with a higher priced car well known for its racing record and beat it by more than 10 miles. Reo time, 57 minutes 43 seconds.

ENDURANCE AND RELIABILITY—You don't want to turn your pleasure jaunts into tests of endurance; but you want proof that your car will stand more strain than you will ever put it to.

In the New York to Atlanta run of 1910, the Reo finished in perfect condition and challenged every other car, regardless of price, to a technical examination. There were no "takers."

In August, 1910, the Reo went from New York to San Francisco in 10 days, 15 hours and 30 minutes, without a wrench being touched to its engine.

COMFORT—Apply that test yourself. Let us take you out for a spin in a Reo over any kind of road you may choose around here.

Read the Receiver's Letter of Acceptance

Here is good news for everyone who wants a piano.

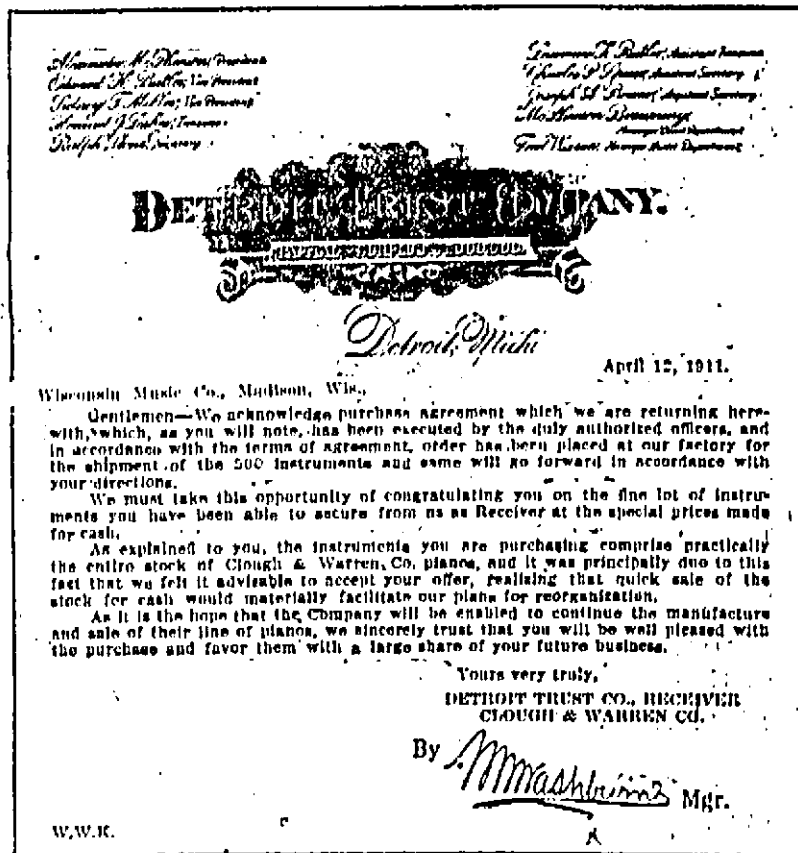

Clough & Warren's failure made necessary the immediate sale of all their finished stock. The receivers had to sell at once for cash.

We got all the best instruments they had to offer and by making it a clean sweep for cash secured them at our own price.

We are now going to make history in the piano business in Janesville. We have marked every Clough & Warren piano at a price which will amaze every one who knows aught of the high reputation and great value of these noted instruments.

You have never had such an opportunity as this before and never may again.

This Letter Tells the Complete Story.

$215—FOR A REGULAR $400 PIANO—$215

THIS receiver's sale is for you. What we saved by this great stroke of business we are passing on to the citizens of Janesville. No one can expect to prosper who would waste such an opportunity. If you could buy your groceries and provisions at half price, what a supply you would lay in, without hesitation and without grudging the money so spent. If you could obtain clothing and furniture for your home and buy two dollars in value with each dollar of your money, how eagerly and how promptly you would rush down town to select it.

MOST likely you will buy but one piano in your lifetime. Will you let this chance slip through your fingers, this chance that doubles the buying power of your money? Will you wait and deliberately throw away as much money as this piano will cost you? You will surely have to pay double after this sale is over. The supply cannot last long. Don't you want to be one of the fortunate ones? If you do, come at once. Come, see and investigate. Buy or not, as you please, but come.

Every Piano Fully Guaranteed

Pianos bearing the old famous Clough & Warren name and backed up by our own written guarantee. If not abused they will be as good musical instruments after ten years as the day they go into your home. The name Clough & Warren alone is sufficient guarantee of merit. But we know the quality of those pianos and we add our own warranty. We freely tell you that no such bargains as these have ever before been offered in Wisconsin. You make money fast by buying now. You get a standard piano at one-half its actual and recognized worth.

*Such Prices Are Made Possible
Only By Our Seizing the Opportunity For You*

Six Splendid Styles In Mahogany, Walnut and Oak

$400 Style $215
$425 Style $240
$450 Style $265
$475 Style $275
$500 Style $295
$550 Style $315

Other Styles In Proportion

Have You Ever Heard of Such Bargains?

Here in our own salesrooms are these choice pianos, each one the kind you would be proud and happy to own. They will not last long. Values are too evident. Call to-day and make selection while assortment is complete

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

IN RESPONSE to my request for information as to ways in which a college girl might earn money during the summer vacation without making herself unfit for the fall work, comes this suggestive and valuable record of what other girls have done.

"Your article referring to the earning of money by college girls during vacation came to my attention and I therefore send you herewith some facts from which ideas may grow.

"One of my own dear college friends spent a summer vacation as book-keeper at a country club, for which she received her room and board and a small weekly salary. Her duties were very light and she had much time for her own devices. Her education and broadening helped her to make personal friends of many of the guests and she reported a splendid summer.

"The one I knew the best of all spent a summer traveling, selling scholarships by contract for a correspondence school. This successfully noted college expenses for one year and gave experience for a lifetime.

"Four girls whom I know at college spent two successive summers at summer resorts in the capacity of waitresses at the summer hotels. They brought back to school in autumn fine coats of tan and plump fat faces to prove that their full quota of play had saved them from the fate of dull Jack.

"My special rival for sorority honors worked all summer as an assistant to a dentist.

"At the end of 'Shorty's' freshman year she earned a neat little sum as public stenographer in a summer hotel, and distinguished herself as a sophomore by her gorgeous raincoat.

"Little Eva entailed the books of a small now agricultural college.

"Mary and Ethel worked all summer as waitresses at Chautauqua. Both girls gained in avocations and returned to college in excellent health.

"Two college acquaintances became tutors during the summer and were taken abroad with their pupils.

"Marie spent her vacation at her own home and earned a small sum by acting as telephone girl at the local exchange.

"A young theological student, whom I know slightly, made and sold ice cream cones at country fairs for four successive summers. This provided him with a very tidy little bank account which more than paid his college expenses.

In addition to taking the trouble of passing on all this interesting information, my correspondent lady makes this very kind promise:

"If you should pass these facts on to anyone who might desire names and addresses of any of the above mentioned, I shall be glad to furnish same through you."

"Don't you think she is a mighty good person to be willing to take all this trouble to help others?"

I do.

I hereby move we all make her a vote of thanks.

Heart and Home Talks

Looking Upward.

As Women Remedy Monotony.

THE moving man has a smile upon his face, as he surveys van-load, after van-load of furniture being hauled from Brown Street to Redfield Street, and other van-loads being taken from Redfield Street to Brown Street; as Mrs. Jones engages him to move her from the city to the country, and Mrs. Smith from the country to the city.

The moving man understands human nature, feminine human nature, that is; and that is the reason he went into the moving business.

It isn't that the house on Brown Street will be any better than the house on Redfield Street, or the one in the country more to one's liking than the abode in the city. The range will be just as sulky, the heater just as unmanageable, the neighbors no doubt, quite as noisy. But woman-kind wears of the monotony of housework. And when she can't get a change in any other way, she moves. This at least gives her excitement, provides new interests, new scenes, new faces.

The orgies of shopping, some women indulge in, are but an expression of the same spirit of restlessness and discontent. They do not realize what is the matter with them. But they do realize that a new dress or a new hat brings a pleasurable excitement, and makes life more worth living for a while. And so they rush to the shops.

It is a pity that women have to resort to such things as these to bring interest and variety into their lives. There are so many better, more worth while things with which to give zest to life—and not half the work and worry, either, of moving, for instance. If women would get some of these interests, home would be the sweetest, most restful place on earth to them. They would never want to move. They would never waste time and money on clothes and bric-a-brac and furniture they have no need of. The lower would be entirely swallowed up in the higher.

And these higher interests not only add joy and vividness to life, but they accomplish some good, which moving and useless shopping never do. There are hundreds of things in every city, in every village, in every community, needing women's interest and help. And they are not numerous. They are not half so vexatious as moving, or getting a gown that doesn't fit or isn't becoming—not to mention what the head of the house will say when the bill comes in.

And if there are no such interests in a community, though it would be strange to find one nowadays without anything of the sort, start something interesting. Don't take to moving or shopping for excitement. Look about and see what your community needs that women can give it. Then get together those who want some interests outside of their household tasks, and throw yourself heart and soul into the work. Moving will lose all appeal. Shopping will become but a pilgrimage of necessity, and yet life will have all the color and sparkle that can be desired.

Belgian Horse Fairs.

Horse fairs, held almost continuously, have helped to make Belgium the greatest horse-breeding country of its size in the world. The fairs are largely attended by foreign buyers, especially Germans, who purchase 25,000 horses a year at these exhibitions. It is estimated that there are now 300,000 horses in Belgium, a country not quite as large as the state of Maryland, which has just about half that number of horses.

OUR AFFAIRS AT TRIPOLI.

June 10.—When the captain of an American vessel went into the Mediterranean about 1801, he traveled the same as a "land head" railroad. That is he did it "at his own risk." This was because the Moslem powers of North Africa had been winking at the practical tricks of the natives who were in the habit of capturing any foreign vessel that neared their shores and after robbing the ship would sell their crews into slavery. The European nations had long since given up the idea of resisting by arms, and had gotten into the habit of paying tribute to the pirates for immunity. Some American ships had been captured and President Thomas Jefferson who had just been inaugurated into office decided to round up a few of the pirates. So when Tripoli got gay and declared war on June 10, 1801, he sent Commodore Dale with four ships into the Mediterranean. The sinking of a Tripolitan pirate showed that the man behind the gun could do the work. This had a good effect on Mr. Pirate for a short time. But he was not completely cured till United States Consul Eaton took a trip through the desert and captured the town of Derna. This and a threatened attack on Tripoli brought the Bashaw of Tripoli to terms and he was glad to sign a treaty that gave American ships free access to the Mediterranean without "selling the man higher up."

Macmillan's Health and Beauty

A pretty mouth will give the plainest face a touch of beauty. Probably the eyes are the most noticeable feature of the average face, and beautiful eyes are a possession to be proud of, but a truly lovely mouth is also a mark of great beauty.

In these days of modern methods and intelligent care, so much can be accomplished that the wise woman will never rest until she has a pretty mouth.

One very important reason for giving the mouth the very best of care is because advancing age is apt to show its first marks around the mouth. This is due to the fact that the mouth is more easily affected by the emotions than any other part of the face, and so is the most tell-tale feature.

Perhaps the first direction should be to cultivate smiles. Not grins, you know, not artificial expressions, but smiles which bring a look of happiness and joy to the face and obliterate in a minute all the hard lines which have been forming for years. Smiles will not remove these lines permanently, in a minute, but they will show you what can be done with a little time and many, many smiles. The troubled and worried look will soon be blotted out, and the erstwhile homely mouth will take on new curves and develop into a feature of real beauty.

Nothing mars the expression of the mouth more than a fretful droop at the corners, and for this a hearty laugh is the best corrector. Does this sound like nonsense? It is really the very best of common sense and if you will study your face in the mirror, or notice the faces of your friends and the members of your family, you will agree with me, I am sure.

In connection with the above directions, massage is an excellent method for improving the appearance of the mouth. The massage must be very gentle, and must always have an upward trend. Beginning at the center of the chin and using two fingers of each hand, make the tiny circular movements directly upward and outward to the corners of the mouth, then following straight up to the sides of the nostrils and then along the cheek bones to the outer corners of the eyes. The circles must be small and the movements gentle. To keep the "Cupid's bow" which gives the mouth such a delicately pretty outline, press the little finger gently in the center of the upper lip every morning regularly.

To hold the mouth in good position habitually and never allow yourself to bite your lips, nor to get into the habit of pressing your lips together tightly, making the mouth a straight line. Among the very common defects are the "nose to mouth" lines, which form a sort of parenthesis exceedingly unbecoming. These must be massaged out with nourishing cream and the use of wrinkle plasters will also be helpful if the lines are deep or of long standing.

A large mouth is not a disfigurement, as some persons believe. Indeed it is much better than one that is too small, as it denotes a better disposition and shows a kinder nature and a broader outlook on life.

A pretty mouth must also have a good set of teeth when smiles are indulged in. In fact white, well-kept teeth will make up for lack of beauty in the mouth, when a happy nature frequently curves the lips in a joyous smile, commencing, 1911, JAMES L. HORN.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Mrs. Lucius G.: The proportions of the lotion you ask about are as follows: Into a half-pint bottle put one and one-half ounces of cucumber juice, one ounce of can de Cologne and enough elder-flower water to half fill the bottle. Shake the mixture till well blended. Then add slowly one-half ounce simple tincture of henna and finally fill the bottle with elder-flower water. Apply with a soft sponge night and morning.

Burdened: Suggesting a dietary to reduce the flesh is hardly possible, because what will cause the rapid formation of fat cells in one system, will have a different effect in another one. Why not use a remedy which will gradually reduce the flesh without the necessity of such strict rules in regard to eating? Your experience is the same as many others have described—the dieting weakens the system and has very little effect on the superfluous pounds of flesh. Write me more fully about yourself, and I will advise you to the best of my ability.

Interested: Try the regular hour a day devoted to absolute rest and relaxation, and do not let anything interfere with it. You will accomplish more and better work if you will establish this custom. Stimulants will never answer your needs, because there is always a reaction which leaves you below the normal condition and then your system must be toned up for its regular duties again. I am sure you will find my suggestion helpful if you will but try it.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

SIMPLE DIET GIVES LONG LIFE.

Auto-intoxication, which Professor Metchnikoff says is the cause of early decay, originates in faulty elimination; the unfriendly germ which his bacterium bacillus is intended to destroy originates in defective elimination due chiefly to complex diet. That is to say, the secret of the prolongation of life that Professor Metchnikoff seeks is not in the antidote, but in the removal of the cause of the poisoning, in the return to the natural, simple diet. The case of Cornaro and all the other great examples of longevity will be found to harmonize with this principle.

It will be found that, making due allowance for heredity and the uniformity of the other conditions of life (pure air, water, light, exercise and mental conditions), longevity is proportionate to simplicity of diet, whether in nations or in individuals or in animals.

When we present-day house-mothers were youngsters, the picnic was an event, and fortunate indeed was the child who went to more than one in a summer. It was preceded by weeks of pleasurable anticipation on the part of the children, and days of strenuous labor on the part of the mother preparing an elaborate meal far too sweet and too rich. But in recent years picnics have become common occurrences, because we have learned how to simplify the picnic dinner into a satisfying, appetizing, well-balanced meal which does not require very much work in its preparation.

One of the most delightful picnic dinners imaginable includes hot coffee, hot creamed potatoes, and broiled steak. This sounds fussy and laborious, but you will be surprised how very simple the whole thing is. The ground coffee is taken up in a chocolate bag packed inside a coffee-pot that can stand "troughing"; the creamed potatoes, prepared the day before, are carried in a granite or aluminum bag, which is provided with a cover, and the steak, cut rather thick, is taken raw. A broiling or toasting rack should also be included in the equipment.

Select an open spot on the picnic grounds, and find three large flat rocks for your fireplace; lay them triangularly, using one of the rocks to regulate the draft. The children will be more than delighted to gather all the dry browned necessary. When the fire is burning steadily, put the broiling rack over the rocks, set the coffee pot full of cold water in which the bag of coffee is immersed, on the rack; place the pan of potatoes on one of the rocks, as that will heat them sufficiently. When the coffee comes to a boil, set the pot on another rock to finish, and place the steak on the broiler. Turn the meat often until it becomes seared on both sides, then let the fire die down while it cooks through. Turn onto a platter or wooden plate, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and dot with bits of butter.

The usual quota of fruit, pickles, olives, cake, pie and sandwiches should accompany this dinner. Lemonade or any fruit drink is good for supper, and for this purpose it will be found convenient to carry the fruit juice, sufficiently sweetened, in a glass jar, to be diluted when wanted.

Be sure that the bread for the sandwiches is cut very thin, and not buttered too heavily. If the butter is first beaten to a cream it will spread much more easily and economically. A delicious sandwich filling is made by adding two tablespoons of cream and one tablespoon of butter to a roll of cottage cheese. Work this until it is smooth, season to taste with salt and pepper, and add chopped pickles and nut meats.

Meat sandwiches and marmalade or conserve sandwiches are always desirable additions. They will keep perfectly fresh all day if each one is wrapped separately in paraffin paper.

Another old standby is hard-boiled eggs which may be taken up already salted. Hard-boiled as many eggs as is necessary, crack the shells all around, but do not remove them, and let them stand in a jar of rather strong brine for about twenty-four hours. You will find that the salt has penetrated even to the yolk.

NEELIE L. HORN.

LET THE SUNSHINE IN.

"Clear the darkened windows, open wide the door, let the blessed sunshine in."

Did you ever notice a plant that had grown in a dark place? Was it beautiful, green and thrifty? New things that grow without sunshine are perfect or beautiful, and children as well as grown-ups need the purifying, life-giving and healing power of the sunlight.

The home that has the drawn curtains that exclude the light will be the home where nervousness, ill temper and general ill health are found. The sunlight is the best germicide known, and it should flood our homes. Keep the windows open in the day for the sun and at night for the purest air. During the hot weather, a house well aired in the morning and then closed through the heat of the day, will always be cool and comfortable.

Helpful Hints.

If you have occasion to use a very large roast, perhaps you don't know that it is a good idea to roast it rather rare the first day, then cut off what is wanted and roast it again.

When cooking beans, try this method—once used by a well-known chef: Thoroughly scrape and dry the fish, all with several slices of bacon that have been dripped in chopped onion and parsley, then season with pepper and salt. Wind the fish with a string, and fry or broil for 30 minutes. Serve with melted butter and lemon.

To keep greens fresh, wash and drain them and place in a large jar or kettle, which may be covered tightly, and if kept in a cool place until needed, the greens will keep crisp and fresh for several days.

Use white embroidery cotton to make buttonholes in thin white goods. They are much easier made, and wear as well as when thread is used.

White cotton crepe waist is made washed and dried over a clothes hanger and a fresh waist is always ready with no ironing.

Heart-Rending.

"My nerves are unstrung."

"What's the trouble?"

"I just now saw a moving picture which showed all the horrors of a bargain counter rush."

Kindergarten Entertainment.

There was a large attendance at the entertainment given at the kindergarten yesterday afternoon by the children of the kindergarten. The proceeds amounted to $24.75 and in all probability the money will be used to purchase a grandfather clock for the kindergarten room. Four beautiful pictures were bought with the money from the kindergarten sale given last year. They were: "St. John Madonna," "St. John the Baptist," "St. John the Evangelist," and "St. John the Baptist." They have proved a source of pleasure to the children.

HORSE RIDES IN A BALLOON

Most Spectacular Thriller of the Age
With Barnum and Bailey Show.

The most spectacular thriller of the age will be seen in Janesville on Tuesday, June 13, through the main exhibition tent of the Barnum and Bailey circus. Those who love horses will find their admiration for the animal increased ten fold when they witness the unprecedented feat of Jupiter, a magnificent Arabian stallion.

To begin with, Jupiter is the handsomest horse ever introduced in a circus ring. He is the king of equines and he looks the part. There is no majesty in his bearing. He is known as the "balloon horse" because he rides to the dome of the tent in a balloon and descends in a show of fireworks. He is ridden by one of the most beautiful women who ever sat in a saddle. Instead of a basket, a platform is attached to the great bag. It is barely large enough to hold the animal. It has no railing. When everything is ready the balloon begins its ascent. The least nervousness on the part of Jupiter would mean death to him and his nervous rider.

On reaching the top there is a moment's pause. Then tongues of flame dart here and there. A shower of fireworks envelops the horse and the girl in a flood of sparkling colors and sparks. Fifty rockets, fastened to the platform, burst away in fantastic directions in all directions. Through all this blazing torrent the descent is made.

No circus act of the past has scored anything like the success won by this magnificent horse. The performance is thrilling enough to rob people of the power to applaud. Once the horse and rider reach the ground in safety, however, the approval and amazement of the audience are expressed in a storm of shouts and hand-clapping.

This circus has many more exceedingly fine acts in which are displayed wonderful intelligence on the part of animals and the highest talents on the part of the show's various trainers. There is a troupe of Hungarian stunts that express the utter limits of the possible along these lines. From the time they enter the arena until their act is finished, they remain standing on their hind feet. One of them plays the landlord of an inn. Another comes for food and a night's lodging. Miss Host lays a dainty supper before him. This over with, he lights a candle and shows his guest to a bed. Morning comes and the landlord rings the breakfast bell.

ADDRESSED CLINTON MEN LAST EVENING

Rev. D. B. Olds Who Has Recently
Returned From Missionary Field
In Japan Told of Work There.

(SPECIAL TO THIS GAZETTE.)

Clinton, June 9.—The men's class of the Congregational Sunday school met with E. L. Benedict, at the Otter Creek stock farm just outside. Eighteen men were present, making the trip in autos furnished by Dr. C. W. Collier, S. S. Jones and Dr. A. S. Parker.

Rev. D. B. Olds, who has recently returned from the Japan missionary field, gave a very interesting talk on conditions there. On account of Mr. Olds being here the class invited his brother, L. L. Olds of Madison, formally of this place and for so many years superintendent of the Sunday school, to be present at the meeting. His presence added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening.

Mrs. Benedict served dainty refreshments appropriate to the season. The next meeting will be held with John H. Helmer, June 23rd.

LITTLE DAUGHTER HAD SCALP HUMOR

Itched So that She Scratched Until Blood Came, Hair Fell Out. Scalp had Unpleasant Odor. Used Cuticure Soap and Ointment Four Weeks. Scalp Perfectly Clear.

Hair Began to Grow Again and Now Has Beautiful, Long Hair.

"When my little daughter was about five years old, she was taken with the measles. A few weeks after the measles were gone, she began to have a severe scalp humor. It itched so that she would scratch the whole day, until the blood came. We had a doctor and tried a good many of the best scalp remedies, but nothing helped. Her hair all fell out and the scalp itself had an unpleasant odor."

We bought one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. We used the Cuticura Remedies according to directions and in about three or four weeks her scalp was perfectly clear of the terrible humor. Her hair began to grow again and now she has beautiful, long hair. Since that time I have recommended the Cuticura Remedies to other people and they also had success. Chas. Malzbrenner, Ames, Iowa, Nov. 8, 1909."
